8/1/2010

*The players listed on this Ineligibility Report have participated in the maximum number of seasons (5 years total eligibility or 3 years Junior College eligibility) and are NOT eligible to participate in the 2010-2011 season. Players who have fulfilled their Junior College eligibility may participate for a 4-year college or university, until they have participated in 5 years total. Players should contact the NCRHA at BOD@ncrha.org if any of the below information is incorrect. The NCRHA and its Member Organizations are not responsible for any omissions on this list. It is the responsibility of each team and player to verify their eligibility prior to participation. Any players found participating in violation of the League Operations Manual will risk forfeiture of all games in which said players participated.

NCRHA INELIGIBILITY REPORT 2010-2011

8/1/2010

*The players listed on this Ineligibility Report have participated in the maximum number of seasons (5 years total eligibility or 3 years Junior College eligibility) and are NOT eligible to participate in the 2010-2011 season. Players who have fulfilled their Junior College eligibility may participate for a 4-year college or university, until they have participated in 5 years total. Players should contact the NCRHA at BOD@ncrha.org if any of the below information is incorrect. The NCRHA and its Member Organizations are not responsible for any omissions on this list. It is the responsibility of each team and player to verify their eligibility prior to participation. Any players found participating in violation of the League Operations Manual will risk forfeiture of all games in which said players participated.
